NORWAY AND VICINITY

The Evening of Music

Announced for Norway and vicinity with W. R. Chapman and three New York artists promises to be one of the most delightful musical treats that we have had for a long time. Mr. Chapman is so well known that he needs no special word of introduction. His reputation as a conductor is unparalled and the artists whom he introduces are always of high order and much ability.

He brings to us at this time three of the very best to be obtained in New York. Miss Margaret Fry, the soprano, has just returned from her studies in Europe, where for four years she has been with the best masters. Her teacher, Bouhy, who was also the teacher of Suzanne Adams, ranks her as superior to the opera artist in beauty of tone in the upper register. Her voice is high and sweet, and she sings most artistically. It is surely a great opportunity to hear such a gifted artist in this town.

Mr. Francis Archambault, the baritone, has been the sensation of the past season. His voice is exceptionally strong and beautiful, and he is a favorite on every concert stage. He will be one of the stars of the next Fall Festivals, and is fitting for opera with Mr. Gran. Mr. Chapman considers him one of the most popular soloists he has ever introduced.

Mr. Hans Knonold, the violincellist, has been heard in Maine at former Festivals. He is always an attraction and a favorite. He has been in great demand all the season; and it is only by special arrangement that Mr. Chapman is able to secure him now. All who have heard him will gladly welcome the chance for renewed pleasure, and those who have not, cannot afford to miss this chance. All these artists will appear at the Maine Festivals, this fall.

Jennie Merrill of Bethel has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Solon Moore.

Mrs. W. E. Bosserman visited at Henry Fifield's, West Paris, Saturday.

Collector Geo. A. Cole is on the war path for 1901 taxes. Better settle.

A. C. Nelson of Lewiston returned, Monday, after visiting friends here.

Benjamin Bonney has moved into Arthur Hibbard's rent on Tucker street.

Ferd Swan has been building a piazza on his cottage by Lake Pennesseewassee.

Jesse Allard and Howard Moulton are rooming for the present at Ed Morse's on Pike's Hill.

The Eastern Telephone Co. have put in sixteen new instruments on their Oxford line, recently.

Will Gary and wife were at M. W. Sampson's camp, Sunday. They enjoyed a dinner of Wild River trout.

Nellie Abbott has left Beal's Hotel where she has been at work, the past year, and gone to her home in Bethel.

Mrs. Andrew W. P. Cobb and Mrs. S. A. Pollister of Auburn have returned home from a carriage drive to Norway.

An adjourned meeting of Lake Assembly, Pythian Sisterhood, will be held, this Friday evening, at 7.30 o'clock.

Norway's streets were made lively, this week, by the presence of the delegates to the Republican County Convention.

F. H. Noyes, Wm. C. Leavitt, F. W. Sanborn and A. W. Thomas went by team on a fishing trip to Andover, Wednesday.

Thomas Smiley and wife went to Bridgton, Thursday of last week. Mr. Smiley secured at Harrison an experienced clerk for his Portland store.

Grace Bicknell was here, this week, from Colby University. The Seniors have a week's vacation before graduation. Florence Williams of Wilton, a classmate, was Miss Bicknell's guest over Sunday.

NUMBER 25. JUNE 20, 1902, NORWAY AND SOUTH PARIS, MAINE. VOLUME XXXIII.

Oxford County Republicans.

Biennial Convention at the Court House, South Paris, Wednesday, June 18--A Large and Harmonious Gathering--Candidates Chosen as Announced in the Advertiser's Forecast Last Week--Resolutions Endorse District, State and National Administrations--Abundant Eloquence and Enthusiastic Speeches.

The Republicans of Oxford county by their delegates met at the Court House, South Paris, Wednesday morning, June 18, and in about two hours selected candidates for the various offices within the county to be voted for next September. There was a considerable attendance beside the delegates, including a number of ladies who seemed much interested in the proceedings.

The convention was called to order at 10.25 a. m., by A. E. Stearns of Rumford Falls, chairman of the Republican county committee.

Rev. A. W. Pottle of the South Paris Methodist church offered an earnest prayer, the convention standing.

Chairman Stearns then announced the following temporary organization:—Chairman, John S. Harlow of Dixfield; Vice-presidents, A. P. Gordon of Fryeburg, J. S. Wright of South Paris; Secretaries, Arthur E. Forbes of Paris, Elliott W. Horne of Canton.

The chairman John S. Harlow was introduced and addressed the convention. He spoke briefly and earnestly on the history and work of the party in its administration of national affairs. He complimented the State on the business like and economical administration of affairs and commended the prohibitory law, denouncing attacks upon it. For the county administration he had only words of praise, especially in the matter of law keeping and law enforcement. He was frequently applauded in his address.

The county committee was appointed a committee on credentials. Their report found seventy-three delegates as follows:

Albany—W. L. Beckler.
Andover—Lewis C. Akers, Chas. M. Newton.
Bethel—H. H. Hastings, E. C. Rowe, C. L. Abbott, jr., A. M. Bean.

Fryeburg—A. P. Gordon, Wm. Gordon, Fred C. Davis.
Gilead—Wm. C. Chapman.
Grafton—Julian C. Farrar.
Greenwood—Walter B. Rand.
Hanover—W. G. Howe.
Hartford—Orlando Irish.
Hebron—Chas. H. George.
Hiram—Almon Young, Chas. Rankin.
Lovell—E. T. Stearns, J. F. Stearns.
Mason—F. I. Bean.
Mexico—E. E. Hayes, Frank A. Perkins.
Newry—W. B. Wight.
Norway—A. F. Andrews, W. W. Whitmarsh, John Wyman, S. C. Foster, C. P. Barnes.
Oxford—John B. Robinson, J. F. Fuller, F. W. Lord.
Paris—N. D. Bolster, A. W. Walker, James S. Wright, H. E. Hammond, Hiram R. Hubbard, F. H. Packard, Geo. W. Ridlon.
Peru—Benj. A. Swasey.
Porter—J. W. Chapman, E. W. Sawyer, O. L. Stanley.
Roxbury—A. W. Robbins.
Rumford—A. E. Stearns, F. A. Porter, H. C. Dunton, John Howe, A. E. Morrison, H. H. Hutchins.
Stoneham—Jonathan Bartlett.
Stow—O. R. Barrows.
Sumner—Llewellyn B. Heald.
Sweden—Joseph Ferry.
Upton—Geo. D. Bisbee.
Waterford—A. G. Morse, I. F. Jewett.
Woodstock—J. M. Day, G. L. Cushman, Jas. H. Davis.
Lincoln Plantation—R. A. Storey.
Magalloway Plantation—E. S. Bennett.
Milton Plantation—Geo. E. Brown

The temporary organization was made permanent by vote of the convention. A committee of seven was appointed to draft the resolutions. Another committee of seven men was chosen to nominate a county committee. A recess was then taken to allow the committees to meet and formulate their reports.

The Ladies' Veranda Club have a baked bean and salad supper in G. A. R. hall, Thursday, June 26, at 6.30 o'clock.

The recently vacated house on Tucker street, belonging to W. S. Stearns, is having a coat of much lighter paint put on it.

Ida May Hill, who has recently graduated from Norway high school, has been absent only four days in a four years' course.

Dea. and Mrs. W. S. Pratt went to Hebron, Wednesday, to attend the graduation of their son Fred from Hebron Academy.

Effie Bennett has been visiting her sisters, Mrs. E. F. Bicknell, Dr. Annette and Lena Bennett. She is a nurse in Portland.

Children's Day at the Baptist church will be observed by a special sermon by the pastor and music by a chorus of young voices.

Telephone Matters.

There have been persistent rumors that the Eastern Telephone company has sold to the New England. We find upon investigation this is incorrect. Special agent Allen informs us that the Eastern company has made traffic arrangements for long distance connections with the Bell Telephone Co's lines whereby there will be but one local company in Norway and South Paris and that the Eastern.

The company has made connection in this section with the Norway Local Telephone Co., Oxford Telephone and Telegraph Co., West Paris and Curtis Hill Co., West Paris and Bryant's Pond Co., Pine Tree Co., Bolster's Mills Telephone and Telegraph Co. Under this arrangement parties upon any of the above lines may be enabled to sit in their own home and talk with parties upon any of the Eastern or Bell lines.

This will be gratifying to the patrons of the telephone service as it means the need of but one instrument to make the connections formerly requiring two, saving the added bother and expense.

Rumor also has it that the Eastern Co. and the Northeastern have combined. This is denied by the officers of the Eastern Co.

Inquiries were made of W. I. Noyes of Lewiston, superintendent of this division of the New England Co. He does not know of such a deal and will not authorize us to affirm or deny the statement as above made.

The new G. T. R. time cards are to be had as usual at Cole's jewelry store.

Geneva Winslow is taking a vacation from her labors in Mrs. G. A. Allen's store.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Eliza Frost Wednesday evening, June 25.

A merry go-round is being set up on the tannery lot. C. H. Chute of Casco will run it.

Kate Smith is at Dr. S. A. Bennett's. Mrs. Bennett's broken limb is improving slowly.

Mrs. Minnie Durgin is on a month's vacation. She spends it with her aunt in Waterville.

Llewellyn Cummings is improving. He was able to get around his room some, Tuesday.

Mrs. A. Edwards has gone to Auburn for a couple weeks. She is visiting Mrs. John Lunt there.

Mrs. A. L. Sanborn and sister, Viola Brown and James Tubbs attended commencement exercises at Hebron, Wednesday.

W. A. Bicknell and A. L. Cook spent a day upon Lake Auburn, recently. They had eleven hours of fishing but nary a bite.

The busy season at Mrs. V. W. Hills is about over. Grace Nevers and Maud McAllister are taking vacations. Mrs. F. E. Drake continues at work.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Morrison of Rumford Falls visited Mr. and Mrs. Freeland Howe, this week. Mr. Morrison was here to attend the convention.

Mrs. Emeline Strout of Portland, who has been visiting her brother in Buckfield for a few weeks, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. T. Gardner, here.

The Universalist Sunday school will have their anniversary exercises, next Sunday evening at 7.30. An interesting program of recitations and music has been arranged.

Presiding elder A. S. Ladd, D. D., will hold the first quarterly conference with Norway Methodist church, Friday evening. Preaching service at 7.30 o'clock followed by a social hour.

There were twenty-five or thirty Pythian sisters who went to Bridgton, Thursday. They were finely entertained. The sail up Highland lake was a delight to them all. The degree was conferred upon a class of two.

"O'Flynn's Stone Wall" is no stranger in Norway, for Norway people were introduced to this play and company, several months ago. It was a pleasing acquaintance from both artistic and funny points of view. All who enjoy a play in which there is plenty of amusement will find it at the Opera House, Saturday evening next. Popular prices. Tickets now on sale at Stone's.

A delegation of twenty-one from Oxford Lodge, No. 18, F. & A. M., visited Evening Star Lodge, No. 147, at Buckfield, Monday evening. They speak highly of the reception they received. Music was by the Rabboni Quartet and accompanist of Lewiston. After the degree work an elaborate banquet was served, and speech making was the order of the day. Those who went say it was a very pleasant and enjoyable time.

Norway Lodge, No. 16, and Mount Hope Rebekah Lodge, No. 58, I. O. O. F., will observe the regular memorial services of the order, Sunday afternoon at Odd Fellows hall, Cottage street. The usual ritual memorial service will be held in the hall at 3 o'clock. Following this the brothers and sisters will decorate graves of the departed members of the order. All Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in town, especially visitors are cordially invited to participate in the exercises.

Royal Arch Masons.

There was a large gathering at Masonic hall Wednesday evening. About twenty-five members of Oriental Chapter of Bridgton came over. There were a number of members of other chapters who were in town attended together with those of Oxford Chapter. About 125 were at the banquet. The expected Portland guests did not come.

Beautiful and valuable jewels were presented to Most Illustrious High Priest Howard D. Smith by Hon. A. S. Kimball, and to Most Estimable Thrice Illustrios Master B. F. Bradbury by Hon. E. F. Smith, in fitting words and in their happiest manner.

The Royal Arch degree was worked upon several candidates.

A splendid banquet was served in the hall below. The tables were set up in the form of Masonic Emblem and covers were laid for 110. A second table was required.

Post prandial speaking was generally indulged in. Among the speakers, the most interesting and entertaining was Hon. L. F. McKinney of Bridgton, formerly representative to Congress from the second district of New Hampshire. All present are telling now what a good time they had.

O'Flynn's Stone Wall.

This is what the Guilford Recorder says of O'Flynn's Stone Wall, which will be at Norway Opera House, Saturday evening, June 21st:—

Tom Waters Co. in O'Flynn's Stone Wall, last Tuesday evening, was the best funny production ever put on the stage here. It was presented by actors who kept you in a continuous roar for fun that was perfect, not overdone and exaggerated. Waters alone, as O'Flynn, would keep an audience in laughter from curtain up to down, and he was supported by a company which matched him to perfection, including the funny little Major, 25 years of age and 34 inches in height. Our city friends pay $1.00 and $1.50 to see productions inferior to this play at which we could enjoy the best seats for 50 cents.

D. E. Fuller has been laid up with erysipelas.

Mrs. D. L. Joslin is visiting relatives in Clinton.

Fred Wentzel is laid up with a stomach trouble.

Mrs. Arthur Morgan is visiting relatives in Haverhill, Mass.

The late rains have caused the gardens to look finely in this place.

W. C. Cole is remodeling the E. D. Cole cottage on Cole's island.

J. T. Rowe's house on Main street is receiving a coat of white paint.

Mrs. Bertha Carter of Haverhill, Mass., is visiting at Simeon Harriman's.

Loren McKeen and wife of East Stoneham are visiting at Austin McAllister's.

Mrs. A. P. Gordon of Fryeburg Center accompanied Mr. Gordon to the Republican convention for the ride and to visit the two villages.

Repairs are being made at the railroad station. The platform on both sides of the freight depot have been replanked, and the passenger is being torn up and relaid.

C. O. Godwin of Waterford was in town, Tuesday. He was just returning from the Republican State convention and a visit to his brothers in Brockton, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Tibbetts have sold out their hotel business at Waterville and are now landlord and landlady of their hotel at Kennebunk, the Mousam House.

Mrs. Emma Bickford went to Lancaster, N. H., Tuesday afternoon. She was summoned by telephone on account of the illness of her son-in-law, Rev. M. H. Carroll.

An interesting feature at the Congregational Sunday school, last Sunday, was the singing by a number of little girls, under the direction of Mrs. G. A. Brooks.

Ceylon Verrill and daughter of San Francisco, Cal., are expected to visit O. W. Edgecomb and family next week. It has been forty years since Mr. Verrill went West.

Emma Smith has been sick for several days at her cottage by lake Pennesseewassee. She has a nurse to care for her and as soon as able will be taken to her home in the village.

Wealthy Cox of Auburn is at her father's, W. F. Cox's, on a vacation during the slack in the shoe business. She and her mother are visiting Mrs. John F. Horne in Portland this week.

The guessing contest recently held at C. F. Ridlon's was won by Aaron Babb. There were 984 cakes of soap in the pile, and the winner guessed within four of the exact amount, winning the barrel of flour.

E. P. Kimball of Waterford, W. S. Kimball and wife of Harrison, A. B. Randall and wife of Lewiston and Prof. G. L. Kimball and family of Canton, N. Y., have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kimball, Paris street.

The Bridgton Pythian Sisterhood pronounced the work of the degree team of the Lake Assembly Sisterhood of Norway, who recently visited them. "A marvel of lodge work." Twenty-one members worked the second degree.

There was trouble among the doves on Cottage street Sunday night and they spent the night out of doors on the roofs of the buildings and in the trees. Some animal had got into the dove-cot in Helen Noyes' stable. Two of the young doves were found killed in the cot.

The Grand Trunk line was blocked between four and five hours Friday, by an accident at Gilead. A very heavy freight train pulled apart and eight cars were derailed and piled up. There were 25 cars loaded with cattle but they escaped. People going to Portland on the forenoon train were obliged to wait till noon.

Saturday was Children's Day at the Norway Grange. Over sixty children were present. There were fifty-four in the procession that marched into the hall, and some came later or were too small to march. The literary exercises consisted of speaking and singing by the young people, and were fine. The singing was by the Noble Corner school. A treat was served by the Grange.

Norway Municipal Court.

Silas E. Coolege of Bethel, charged with drunkenness and disturbance at a ball game in Rumford, was before Judge Davis Tuesday. He pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs. Paid.

Auverne Lapham also of Bethel was on trial Wednesday afternoon for intoxication. He pleaded guilty and was fined $3 and costs. Paid.

Calvin Washburn, who was bound over to the Supreme court on a charge of missappropriation of funds belonging to his sister-in-law and who was out, has been returned by his bondsmen to the authorities and is now in charge of the county jailor.

Norway Will Celebrate.

P. H. Nevers visited the Norway merchants and other citizens the past week. The result was that a sum of money was pledged with which to properly observe the national birthday of our independence. A parade of horribles, base ball, races and athletic sports are among some of the sports contemplated. Norway has not had a Fourth of July celebration for several years.

Jameson Finney is clerking at the Lovejoy hotel, Bethel.

Annie Monahan has been presented with a greyhound pup.

The Allen party from Andover, Mass., is expected Friday at the camp on Bass island.

New ties are being placed under the rails of the street railway on Paris street replacing worn out and discarded ones.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hathaway gave a dinner to the O. K. whist club in honor of A. M. Rollins at their cottage at Twin Island.

W. C. Stiles, a brother of M. P. Stiles, was married, Wednesday, at Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Moses P. Stiles attended the wedding.

Richard and Tom Knowland started off alone on Saturday last for their regular summer visit to their grandparents at South Freeport.

R. W. Parker and wife and Mrs. Sumner Parker and family visited Mrs. Parker's sister, Mrs. F. F. Philbrook at Center Conway, N. H., last week.

Sarah Crooker is home from Auburn, caring for her mother, Mrs. Job Crooker. Mrs. Crooker is quite helpless. Her right side is partly paralyzed.

O'Flynn Stone Wall by Tom Waters Co., that was well received in Norway on its first appearance here, will return Saturday evening at the Opera House.

Mrs. Jonathan Blake's health has not been quite as good as usual for the past few weeks. Mrs. Blake has been confined to the house for a long time by her foot.

Hon. J. A. Roberts went to Orono to a trustee meeting of the University of Maine. He also attended the Republican State convention, to which he was a delegate.

Gertrude Gardner and Annie Laferrier attended commencement exercises and concert at Hebron Wednesday. They were accompanied by Josephine Bowker of Brunswick.

Rev. C. E. Angell preaches, Sunday morning, an appropriate sermon for Children's Day. The children as the central figure of educational and religious life, will be the underlying theme.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Seitz of New York, who have been at Mrs. Seitz's former home in Deering, were expected to visit Norway friends, Monday. A telegram that their daughter was seriously ill caused them to return home at once.

Rev. W. W. Hooper of Woodfords has written two stories for boys, entitled "That Minister's Boy" and "Fred Harwood," with scenes laid in the vicinity of Portland and in the town of Turner, which stories will be published as one book in a month or two by the Eagle Printing Office of Brooklyn, N. Y., with suitable illustrations.

June Leavitt gave a reception to her Sunday School class and young friends Wednesday evening. There were thirteen young people present. They were entertained with games and music. Refreshments of lemonade and fancy crackers were served. On behalf of the class, Lucy Freeman presented Miss Leavitt with a cracker jar for a wedding gift.

Just before going to press an angry woman called up the ADVERTISER by telephone and asked us to tell all owners of dogs in Norway village that they must take care of their dogs or something serious would happen. The dogs ruin the gardens and flowers by running over them or scratching them up and annoy people nights as well as in the day time by barking.

The Edward Little High school team is engaged to play the Norway team at the fair grounds Saturday. The Norway team has been materially strengthened and it is believed by the management, the Auburn boys won't "do up" the Norways this week, at least not without a hard struggle. The game of last Saturday proved that the Norways can play ball, as all who saw it will admit. Harry E. Nevers will play with the Norways and it is expected will captain the team.

NORTH NORWAY.

Hattie Oxnard has a new piano.

Ida McKay has gone to Benj. Tucker's to work.

F. A. Hunt, letter carrier, from Brooklyn, N. Y., is at home for four weeks' vacation.

SOUTH PARIS.

Death of Peter Frost.

Peter Frost, well known here, died at his home on Pleasant street near Hick's crossing, Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock. He has been in poor health for a long time, and it was thought the end was near, but death came suddenly at the last.

He was a native of Norway, the son of Peter and Sarah (Perkins) Frost, and was born June 28, 1826. At the time of the mining excitement in the 60's he went to Nevada and was gone for several years.

His wife died some years ago and of late he has made his home with his son son Freeman Frost, and his daughter, Mrs. Erastus Clark, who live in the same house and where he died. There are other grown up children.

He was made a Mason 42 years ago, being one of the oldest members of Oxford Lodge of Norway. He was a constant attendant upon its meetings and faithful to Masonic duties.

Mrs. Phebe Knight.

Mrs. Phebe Ann, wife of Joseph Knight, died at her home in this village, Saturday evening, June 14, from causes incident to old age. She was the daughter of Jonas and Abigail (Bradbury) Knight and was born in Chesterville in 1820. In 1839 she married Joseph Knight, and has lived here since. She united with the Congregational church some sixty-three years ago, and has been a faithful Christian worker. A husband and five daughters survive. Funeral services were held at her late home, conducted by Rev. Dr. W. E. Brooks, Tuesday afternoon.

Lucelia Crockett and Sue Porter have returned from Farmington State Normal School.

A recent article in a horse paper deals with South Paris and its valuable horses. Among those noticeable for speed, beauty and other good qualities are some of A. J. Penley's from the mare Nettie, such ones as May Day 2.21¼, Nicholas 2.35, Glencoe Patchen 2.30 and others. It is to be hoped a permanent revival of the Maine bred horse has come in for it pays to raise a good one.

The Oxford Club of Methodist ministers held their monthly meeting with Rev. A. W. Pottle Monday. Business, the good of the kingdom and an excellent dinner occupied their attention until after two o'clock when they held a public meeting in the M. E. church. Rev. R. A. Rich read a paper upon "The Pastor's Relation to Sunday School Work," which was interesting and inspiring. The ministers and their wives and the laymen present discussed the subject thoroughly. Among those from out of town were Rev. R. A. Rich and wife, West Paris; Rev. B. F. Fickett and wife, Norway; Rev. F. C. Norcross, Mechanic Falls.

DON'T DELAY

It is "Putting Off Till Some Other Day" that Causes so Many Sudden Deaths.

Be sure you need a medicine before you take it, but having once found out that you need it, lose no time in getting the best. If it's for the kidneys, liver, bladder or blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, chronic constipation, or the weakness peculiar to women, the best is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and a very simple way to find out if you need it, is to put some urine in a glass tumbler and let it stand 24 hours; if it has a sediment or a milky or cloudy appearance; if it is ropy or stringy, pale or discolored, you do not need a physician to tell you that your kidneys and bladder are badly affected.

The Rev. Theodore Hunter, pastor of the Presbytarian Church, Greensburg, Ky., writes us the following:

"It gives me much pleasure to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Some time ago I had a severe attack of kidney trouble, but a few bottles of 'Favorite Remedy' have entirely removed the malady."

"Favorite Remedy" speedily cures such dangerous symptoms as pain in the back, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, burning scalding pain in passing water, the staining of linen by your urine and all the unpleasant and dangerous effects produced on the system by the use of whiskey and beer.

All druggists sell Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular $1.00 size bottles.

June.

When the roses are in blossom
And the sun bids all rejoice,
And the nesting birds are calling,
Each in his own sweet voice,
When the grasses, green and fragrant,
Bend before each passing breeze,
And the cattle rest at noon-tide
In the shadows of the trees;
When the summer moon, majestic,
As she rises o'er the hill,
Looks calmly on the cuckoo
And the plaintive whip-poor-will,
It is then my heart is troubled
And this world seems bleak and drear,
And I'd gladly journey Heneeward,
For, Mosquito Time is here.

My Schoolma'am.

I know a little schoolma'am with crinkles in her hair,
I see her face in dreamin', I see it ev'rywhere;
I see it when I'm milkin' an' when I'm holdin' plow,
Till the picter's jsp'ilt by turnin', or the kickin' of the cow.
She's the cutest little schoolma'am it was e'er my lot to meet,
With the fines' little figger an' the neates' little feet;
An' when she smiles her face it looks so innocent an' sweet,
An' when she speaks seems tho' she'd hear my heart, so loud it beats.
Thar ain't no sweeter song bird on the whole blamed hemisphere,
Nor one that sings so purty most any time o' year.
Golly! I'd like to hug 'er in my arms jest once an' call 'er mine!
But I darsn't—light o' courage—like a contrac' light, won't shine. CHARLES DAVIS.

How American Soldiers Left Cuba

Troop F, 7th Cavalry, Chickamauga Park, Ga.

The ADVERTISER was received yesterday also the last one sent to Cuba.

I saw a piece in the ADVERTISER about some interesting places near there, well I think there is no place on earth so beautiful as Norway. I have described it a hundred times to some of my comrades. Now a little about our leaving Cuba.

On May 19, at 11 a. m., we lined up in front of our barracks then marched off in columns of four to the flag staff, where we formed a square around it, then at a signal from the commanding officer, Old Glory was lowered while the band played, "The Star Spangled Banner," all of us standing at present arms. It was indeed a beautiful sight to see Old Glory coming down and not in disgrace.

After this was over we went right forward fours right to our train which was waiting just outside the port.

At 1 p. m. we arrived in Havana and were marched toward our ship, the Morro Castle, of the Ward line. It was about 3.30 p. m. before we all got aboard, the steamer being in the stream we had to go on board in lighters.

On May 20, at 9 a. m. the Morro Castle hove up her anchor and pulled into the dock. At 11 a. m. the two squadrons (I forgot to say the horses and 1st squadron had gone to the States) lined upon the dock and were marched up the Place Cabord, one fourth of a mile where we stood at ease until quarter of twelve, then for 15 minutes we stood at attention. At 12 o'clock, noon, we presented arms and the 7th band played, "The Star Spangled Banner." At the same time Gen. Gomez ascended to the roof of the palace. He was instantly recognized by the people who made an immense demonstration of welcome, while he stood watching the troops of the 7th Cavalry, undo the halyards from the flagstaff and lower the dear old flag, which never came down in disgrace, and as it fluttered down many a head was uncovered

Oh I tell you it was a grand sight, one I never will forget. At the same time came the distant boom of one of the great guns at Morro Castle across the bay, it was followed another and another in rhythmic succession until forty-five shots had been fired, each for a State in the Union. As the first gun spoke, the flags at Morro Castle and on the Santa Clara and Punta forts were lowered.

Meantime the Cuban flag had been bent on the halyards of the palace flagstaff. As the flag arose and flew free, the houses around fairly rocked with the cheer that arose. Again we came to present arms and the band played the Cuban National air, again the guns saluted, this time the National salute of twenty-one guns, the Brooklyns thundered amen. The foreign warships hoisted the Cuban flag on their foremast head and bestowed upon it all honors due sovereign States.

The demonstration still gathered force until the old 7th wheeled and marched to the wharf where we lined up in columns of fours and each soldier received a bunch of cigars, given by the Henry Clay Co. As we left the palace to march to the wharf the Cubans gave us cheer after cheer, Vive Americano Vive. I saw women crying as we passed them, and well they might for the American soldier has done more for Cuba's poor than the outside world knows.

After going on board the Morro Castle we were immediately towed away from the dock, and with her nose pointed seaward we started toward home. On board the steamer one could get a fine view of the city of Havana. As far as the eye could see, flags were flying. On the harbor front were crowds of people and as we slowly passed out of the harbor cheer after cheer was given both by us and the Cubans. All kinds of crafts followed us to open sea, while in our wake came the beautiful ship Brooklyn, having on board Gen. Wood and his Adj. Gen., Col. H. Scott with two aids. The man at the taffrail of the Brooklyn was kept busy, dipping the flag in answer to the salute of the thousands upon the water front, who watched our departure.

Long before sundown, Morro Castle was out of sight. We had a pleasant passage to Newport News, Va., where after two days we landed and immediately disembarked and went to work getting our rations and baggage on the wharf. There were 22 sleeping cars waiting for us.

About four hours after landing, we started for Chickamaugua Park, passing through the states of Virginia, North Carolina, Tennesee and Georgia after two days and one night we landed here, safe and sound. The camp is called Camp Thomas, and is about 1½ miles from Lytle and 9 from Chattanooga, Tenn.

On May 30, the whole regiment went to Chattanooga and took part in the ceremonies, the people seemed to take a great deal of interest in us, and we got back to Camp about 9.30 p. m. It was a hard march as I had not been in the saddle for over two months. Sunday here is a great day for visitors.

From a hill near by one can see Lookout mountain, but I have not had an opportunity to visit it yet.

We are living in tents but have a large wooden building for a diningroom. We have our dishes out today and the boys were glad to put away their mess kit. The water supply here is good and the plumbers are fast putting in new pipes. I expect by Oct. 1, to move West for winter quarters.

Yours Very Truly,
PVT. IRVING L. LORING

Joseph Robinson Parrott.

Joseph Robinson Parrott is the son of George J. and Mary Robinson Parrott, and the grandson of the late Joseph Robinson, the successful woolen manufacturer of Oxford.

Mr. Parrott fitted for college at Hebron and Andover, Mass., and entered Yale in 1879, graduating in 1883. He entered the Yale law school at once, graduating in 1885. He was in the Yale boat crew three times in the contests against Harvard, twice as a winner and once as a loser.

He went to Florida immediately after leaving the law school and became counsel for the East Coast railroad system owned by Henry M. Flagler, where, by his intelligence and strict attention to business, he soon won the confidence of his employer. When he had been in this position but a short time, he was made receiver in the assignment of a contributing line of railroad, which he managed with such excellent judgment as to place it on a paying basis and disposed of the property much to the advantage and satisfaction of all parties concerned.

Mr. Parrott is now the general manager of Mr. Flagler's large interests in Florida. He is the vice president of the Florida East Coast railroad lines, and president and general manager of his great hotel system, embracing the Ponce de Leon, one of the finest hotels in the world, the Alcazar and Cordova, all located at St. Augustine; the Ormond at Ormond, the Poinciana and Breakers, at Palm Beach, the former having accommodations for two thousand guests; the Royal Palm at Miami, and the Colonial at Nassau; also a large summer hotel at Atlantic Beach in Florida. He is also president of the steamship lines running boats from Tampa, Key West and Miami to Nassau, Havana and Porto Rico. Mr. Parrott has a general oversight of all these vast interests and carries the very heavy load with marked ability. He has the entire confidence not only of his millionnaire employer, but of all who come in business contact with him.

He commands a larger salary than almost any young man who has gone out from Maine, it being, as may be supposed, commensurate with his very great responsibilities. Mr. Flagler's stupendous enterprise and great outlay in Florida is beyond computation in the development of the State. It is a winter resort for thousands of northern guests who find in his hotels the very best that such resorts can offer, coupled with a climate that is of itself a great attraction.

Mr. Parrott lost a beautiful home with all its furnishings in the great Jacksonville fire of last year, but has rebuilt on a larger scale on the site of his former home. He married a New York lady and they have a charming daughter 12 years of age.

KEZAR FALLS.

Full of Hedgehog Quills.

Elmer Hubbard's dog Jack came home from the woods, recently, with his mouth, inside and out, so full of hedgehog quills that his master mercifully had him chloroformed. Jack was one of the best of dogs, faithful to his master and friendly with all well-disposed people. The epitaph written for another such dog, over a century ago, can be fitly applied to him: "He possessed strength without insolence, courage without ferocity, and all the virtues of man without his vices."

Alice Campbell of Yarmouthville has been the guest of her friend, Florence Garner.

Preston Warren, leader of the brass band, plays cornet in the M. E. church. He is a very desirable addition to the choir.

Melvin Pearl was called to Sacramento, Cal., by the serious illness of his sister, and before reaching that city received by telegram the sad news of her death.

R. F. Wormwood of Saco was in town, attending the graduating exercises at North Parsonsfield Academy. His daughter Bertha is one of the graduates.

Rev. John Collins of Somersworth, N. H., lectured in the M. E. church here on the evening of June 5. His lecture was reminiscent of the time when brother was pitted against brother, one wearing the blue, the other the gray. Previous to the lecture, a reception was accorded Mr. Collins, and very many of his former friends and parishioners availed themselves of the opportunity to grasp his hand and welcome him once more to the scene of his former labors.

The air is full of Fourth of July preparations.

G. W. Towle has his place nearly ready for occupancy.

The benefit given by the ladies of this place, Saturday evening, June 7, for the band netted $10.20.

The Republican caucus sent the following delegates to the county convention: James W. Chapman, Orman L. Stanley, Ellsworth W. Sawyer; to the State; John Lord, Wm. A. Garner, P. J. Stanley.

PORTER.

Stepped on a Board Nail.

The little son of Everett Wentworth while at play, stepped on a board nail, which has made him quite lame for a few days.

Mrs. Joseph Brice is quite sick with pneumonia.

There was a little frost on the 5th, killing beans in this vicinity.

Arthur Gilman cut his leg quite badly a few days ago, while peeling bark.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Roberts spent a few days in Ossipee among their old friends, recently.

Mrs. Everett Wentworth spent a few days in Limerick with her brother, who is very sick, recently.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Willie Rounds have adopted a little girl from the town farm in Parsonsfield.

The farmers have commenced their hoeing, though some have not got done planting on account of the cold and wet weather.

An Interesting Lecture.

Rev. C. H. Young gave an interesting lecture on temperance at the hall, Sunday evening, June 8, to a large and appreciative audience.

Bert Thurston has returned.

Mrs. F. O. Giles has returned from Portland.

D. W. Carlton has gone to Bartlett for a few days.

Mrs. Jay Chandler has been very sick, but was better at last reports.

E. S. Hutchins is making improvements on his camp at Stoneham.

Albert Wiley and David Chandler were in Portland, Saturday, June 7.

May Hastings, who has been in Portland for a short time, returned, Tuesday, the 10th.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Charles visited relatives in Bridgton, Saturday and Sunday, June 7 and 8.

V. H. Johnson has been on the sick list for a few days. He is now able to be about again.

Mrs. Elwood Bemis and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bemis have been visiting relatives in Conway, for a week, recently.

Several from this place attended the ball game at Fryeburg, Saturday, the 7th between that nine and the Stow nine.

Mrs. Louise Henklemann, Charles Badgsley and Rev. C. H. Young of Cornish are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Hatch.

NORTH PARSONFIELD.

Mrs. Abbie Smith.

Died in this place, May 16, of bronchial catarrh, Mrs. Abbie Smith, wife of H. G. O. Smith, aged 87 yeass.

Mrs. Smith was the daughter of Stephen Johnson, was born in Sanford, June 3, 1815, united with the Methodist church in Somersworth when only 16 years of age and remained a consistent member until her death. She was married to Daniel Perkins of Effingham, May 13, 1841, who died, Dec. 4, 1851. Nov. 22, 1865, she was married to Mr. Smith of Parsonsfield. About four years ago, Mrs. Smith was very sick with pneumonia and since then she has been very feeble but with the help of her husband she has done her work. Although death came suddenly it found her ready.

She never murmured, but met every one with a smile and showed a heartfelt appreciation of even small favors. Her work is done and well done. She leaves an aged husband over 90 years old who keenly feels his loss. It was her constant prayer that he might not live to suffer, but that if it was God's will he might meet her soon in that land where parting is unknown. She also leaves one son, Edwin Perkins, of Lewiston, besides other friends. Funeral the 18th, at her home, Rev. F. C. Potter of Kezar Falls, officiating. Text, Isaiah 64:6, And we all do fade as a leaf. Burial at South Parsonsfield.

Melissa Dearborn of East Parsonsfield has been helping Mrs. Susan Leavitt for a few days.

Rev. Leroy Bean of Saco preached the sermon to the graduating class Sunday, June 8, in the afternoon.

As there were no memorial services here, several of the citizens fixed up their lots, cut bushes, set out plants and trimmed up trees.

L. L. Cook found a large cluster of ripe field strawberries, May 30.

Mrs. David Putnam spent two days at Brownfield as the guest of Mrs. Elisha Burnell.

F. H. Parsons has been busy planting corn for the farmers with his corn planter.

Mrs. Ivory Cole of West Brownfield has been in town as the guest of her son, A. F. Cole.

S. C. Hatch killed a large hog a short time ago from which he got twenty-six pounds of strained lard.

Parkman Crown and wife of Intervale were in the place on the 8th, the guests of David Wakefield and wife.

Jesse Ivy is making alterations and building an addition on his house that he bought last fall for a summer residence.

Lydia Willey recently received a very pretty bouquet of flowers from Mrs. Herbert Morton. She was much pleased with them.

Mrs. MacKinnon of Boston has returned to her home. She has been, since the first of March, with her sister, Mrs. Jessie Cole.

Mr. Comstock has been looking after the finishing up of his house which is being built for a summer residence. It will be a fine house when done. There are a number of open fireplaces up stairs and down. The floors, windows, door casings and base boards are North Carolina pine.

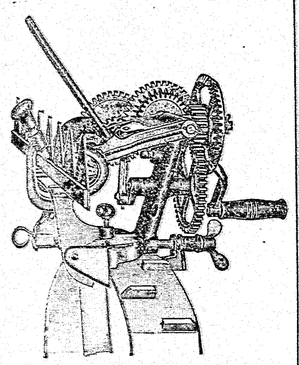
NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Norway Branch Railroad will be held at the store of H. J. Bangs, in Norway, Me., on Tuesday, July 1st, 1902, at 2 o'clock p. m. 24-26

H. J. BANGS, Clerk.

Norway, Maine, June 6th, 1902



It is almost haying time and if you are to have a new McCormick mower it is time you ordered it and of course you'll want one of these McCormick Knife Grinders. They are the kind that please the customer, and don't forget that WITT sells them—that is, the grinders, not the customers, with some of the grinders that are offered for sale an agent can sell both the machine and the customer. But it is not so with any of the McCormick machines of any kind. They are sure to give satisfaction. One agent in Maine sold 110 of these grinders last year, he couldn't have made such a record if the machine was not liked. Don't forget now, to order your machines, mowers or rakes very soon so as to have them ready for the bountiful hay crop that is growing.

WHITE,---THE SYMBOL OF PURITY.

Forwarding Temperance.

Oxford County Woman's Christian Temperance Union met for their fifteenth annual convention in the Second Congregational church, Norway, Thursday and Friday of last week. The county union is made up of eight local unions, each of whom were represented at this gathering, and the work reported as being done by these bands of noble women was inspiring and cheering to the hearts of people interested in the welfare of our county.

The church was decorated with potted plants along the platform's edge, with vines among them. A white banner, bearing a white-robed female figure on an irregular background, and around it the words "Oxford W. C. T. U., hung on the organ.

Mrs. Martha B. Chapman of Bethel, president of the union, and Mrs. Emma W. Chandler, secretary, had seats upon the platform.

The services opened at 10.30 with a a hymn. Scripture reading was Matt. 25. Prayer.

The roll call of officers showed four general officers and eight superintendents responding to their names.

Committees appointed were:

Credentials—Mrs. Elizabeth F. Bicknell, Norway; Mrs. Sarah F. Billings, South Paris.

Courtesies—Delia Lane, West Paris; Mrs. Fannie Bisbee, Bethel.

Resolutions—Miss E. A. G. Stickney, East Brownfield; Mrs. A. W. Pottle, South Paris; Mrs. Benj. Spaulding, Buckfield; Mrs. Howard D. Smith, Norway.

The convention was given a hearty welcome by Mrs. C. N. Tubbs, president of the Norway union. Mrs. Fannie M. Y. Clifford of Hiram responded feelingly.

Madam President Chapman delivered her annual address. She dealt with the work of the county union of the year and present needs, especially for enforcement of our laws. She emphasized the call for earnest labor, especially among the young. The S. T. I. and the L. T. L. were commended as also the school savings banks, as aids in character forming, which is better than re-forming.

A letter of greeting from the president of the State and National Unions, Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens of Portland.

The president resigned her office to take effect at the close of the convention. She has held the position for several years and feels the want of being relieved from its duties. The resignation was accepted.

Voted that president's address be printed in the local papers.

Faunie W. Cummings of Norway read an appropriate selection that was heartily appreciated.

Rev. R. A. Rich made a few remarks in response to a call. The W. C. T. U. is a mighty power against the evils threatening our state and nation. Rev. B. F. Fickett rejoiced in the past glorious work of the union and the future brilliant prospect. Rev. A. W. Pottle paid tribute to a certain person's Christian mother, wife and three daughters.

The customary W. C. T. U. noontide prayer, observed all over the world, was now at hand. Rev. Mr. Pottle was invited to voice their prayer which he did.

Adjourned to afternoon.

The dining room was very attractive with its tables—loaded with tempting food, and here and there the vase of flowers that adds so much on such occasions.

Sessions began at 2 o'clock. The secretary's report was read and accepted as was also the report of the treasurer.

The committee on credentials found the following present:

Bethel—Mrs. S. F. Billings, Mrs. Fannie Bisbee, Mrs. Ellen Jordan, Mrs. Ellen Packard.

Buckfield—Mrs. Benj. Spaulding, Mrs. Cyrus Spaulding, Mrs. Belle Nulty, Mrs. Anna Pike.

Brownfield—Mrs. A. G. Stickney, Isabel Stickney.

Hiram—Mrs. Fannie M. Y. Clifford, Mrs. Belle Flood.

Rumford Falls—Mrs. J. D. Graham, Mrs. Chas. A. Mixer.

Norway—Mrs. C. N. Tubbs, Dr. Annette Bennett, Mrs. James Danforth Mrs. H. D. Smith, Mrs. A. F. Andrews, Mrs. E. F. Bicknell, Mrs. Emma Mann, Mrs. Geo. W. Locke, Mrs. W. F. Jones.

South Paris—Mrs. Spofford, Mrs. Moulton, Mrs. Doble.

West Paris—Mrs. Julia Rich, Delia Lane, Emma Swan, Mrs. Anna White.

Alice M. Douglass of Bath spoke upon the subject, "Peace and Arbitration." Advocated arbitration in every possible instance where no moral principle is at stake.

Mrs. William F. Jones had some very pertinent suggestions on "Y" work. Some valuable ideas for both young ladies and young men. Among other things, slang, evil books, narcotics, were advocated as good things to let alone.

Voted to have this printed in local papers.

Report of corresponding secretary was read and accepted.

The superintendents of departments were called upon for reports at this session, and the ones Friday forenoon and afternoon. Each department was finally heard from, each reporting some progress made in the various unions, while in some of them most gratifying results were shown.

Rev. B. S. Rideout was called upon for closing words which he spoke fittingly.

Supper was served in the dining room.

Thursday evening, Mrs. H. L. Horne was the organist. Mrs. B. F. Bradbury sang two solos. The audience were delighted with her singing. Scripture reading and prayer by Rev. F. Fickett of the Methodist church. The president introduced the speaker, Mrs. Nellie G. Burger of Clark, Missouri. Mrs. Burger made her hearers feel at home with her at once by asking the ladies to remove their hats that she might better see their faces and discern the few men that might be lurking behind them. She had been requested to give the lecture on "The Knight of the Twentieth Century." She explained that this was a lecture to the men and boys largely, and in giving it before the audience there assembled it was a good deal like playing Hamlet with Hamlet left out. However the ladies could go home and tell the men what she said. She was a very graceful, easy and forceful speaker. No one had any difficulty of understanding just what she meant. Her knight was dubbed after the manner of the knight errants of the 13th century. He was gently bred and his armor was the invisible and invincible armor of truth On his shield were engraved three devices that ordered his life:—I will use all women respectfully as though they were my mother, wife or sister. I will not listen to or tell questionable stories or use profane or obscene language. I will insist on the same standard of purity for men as for women.

The lecture was mostly on social purity. She told story after story to illustrate the points taken. She made it plain that the spirit of chivalry is still present among the best men, and that thoughtless women are as much responsible for the disrespect from men as the men by lowering their standard of womanhood and allowing disrespectful language or acts in their presence, and not encouraging what is best. She thinks parents make a great mistake in not impressing on the minds of their girls, so far can you go and no farther and keep within the pall of respectability. The idea that boys will be boys and a crop of wild oats is a necessity is a mistake, and a most damnable mistake. There is no call for a crop of wild oats. More than that every lot of wild oats sowed yields a bountiful harvest of tears for some woman. She condemned in severe terms men, boys or women who will allow themselves to gather in clubs or other places where one sex congregate and listen to or tell indecent or obscene stories, and the street loafers who gather to make like remarks about every woman or girl that passes. Treat all women (and that means every one) as you would want your mother, your wife, your sister treated.

Mrs. Burger urged a liberal collection for the Oxford County W. C. T. U. After the lecture she held an informal reception and greeted all.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. C. E. Angell of the Universalist church.

Friday morning, after devotional service led by Mrs. A. W. Pottle of South Paris, came the choice of officers, which resulted as follows, all being chosen unanimously:

Pres.—Mrs. Belle Nulty, Buckfield.
Cor. Sec.—Mrs. Annie E. Barnes, Norway.
Rec. Sec.—Jennie M. Brown, West Paris.
Treas.—Mrs. Fannie M. Y. Clifford, Hiram.
Vice-Pres. at large—Mrs. E. A. Stickney, East Brownfield; Mrs. Elizabeth W. Morton, South Paris.

Department Superintendents:
Homes for Homeless Children—Mrs. A. F. Andrews, Norway.
Literature—Mrs. I. M. Swett, South Paris.
Agent for Union Papers—Isabel Shirley, Bethel.
Legislation—Mrs. Waldo Pettengill, Rumford Falls.
Evangelism—Mrs. Mary Crockett, South Paris
Y's and juvenile work—Mrs. Emily Emmons, West Paris.
Sunday school—Mrs. E. A. G. Stickney, East Brownfield.
Sabbath observance—Mrs. Fannie Burnell, Hiram.
County Fair—Mrs. Rose Thurston, Norway.
Narcotics—Mrs. Gilbert Tilton, Buckfield.
Hygiene—Dr. Annette Bennett, Norway.
Prisons, jails and almshouses—Mrs. Martha Anderson, Norway.
The Franchise—Mrs. Clara Withington, Buckfield.
The Press—Mrs. E. W. Chandler, Bethel.
Music—Jessie Kimball, East Hiram.
Peace and arbitration—Rev. C. E. Angell, Norway.
L. T. L.—Annie Bagley, Norway.
Charity—Mrs. Martha Anderson, Norway.
Lumbermen—Mrs. E. A. G. Stickney, East Brownfield.
Purity—Mrs. H. L. Bartlett, Norway.
Flower Mission—Fannie W. Cummings, Norway.

A brief but excellent paper on "Humane Education" by Jessie Kimball of Hiram was read by Mrs. Fannie M. Y. Clifford.

Mrs. R. A. Rich conducted the memorial services of those who have joined the W. C. T. U. in the Better Land. A beautiful duet was sung by Mrs. Pottle and Mrs. White. Psalm 46 was read. Most touching were the tributes to Mrs. Julia Ripley, South Paris, E. Belle Dutton and Ida Maude Hassan, Norway, Lucy A. Dickinson and Mrs. Ada Andrews, West Paris.

Harriet J. Loring of Otisfield, one of the State officers, was called upon and spoke of the State work, especially bringing a message from the State president.

The new president, Mrs. Nulty, was introduced. She demurred to accepting the office, but in the afternoon decided to do so. She will make a faithful and earnest officer.

1. Acknowledging goodness of God and pledging members to seek more and more His guidance.

2. Pledging the convention to do all its power to secure better enforcement of prohibitory law.

3. Favoring arbitration in all disputes, State, national and international.

4. Favoring retention of temperance lessons in international Sunday school lessons.

5. To put specified helps in hands of all primary teachers.

6. Favor school savings banks as helping in character building.

7. Thanks to retiring president and corresponding secretary.

8. Thanks to Norway union for entertainment, to Second Congregational church for flowers and music, to the railroad and to all who have assisted in any way.

Voted to send a copy of resolution No. 4 to the International Sunday school committee at Denver.

Voted to send to Androscoggin county union the sympathy and encouragement of this union in their fight for enforcement of the law.

"Practical Temperance Work" was the topic of Jennie M. Brown of West Paris. It was a very strong paper. Opposition to W. C. T. U. is either ignorance or self-interest. Lawlessness greatest danger to the republic. Truth and nature are in perfect harmony, and falsity, vice and evil are opposed by all of nature's laws.

We expected a vigorous speech from Pastor Rideout, and we had it. Believes that indifference is nearly at an end and people are waking up, to demand enforcement of law. He also wants personal work, the pledge and other reformatory devices used more, and especially temperance work with the young.

The new secretary was introduced and took the desk. Minutes were read and approved. Voted to publish address of Miss Brown in the county paper. A letter of greeting was sent to Mrs. Stevens, State and national president.

Adjourned sine die.

Show What You Can Do.

Beginning Sept. 22d, a genuine, old-time Mechanics Fair will be held in Boston. This will be the first time in four years that the Fair has been held.

The great popularity of this exhibition is well-known. No charge is made to exhibitors for space. The utmost effort will be made this year to make the Fair attractive. We advise all interested in the arts, sciences, agriculture, etc., to avail themselves of this opportunity to exhibit their work or products. Application for space and further particulars should be addressed to J. C. Hosmer, Manager, Mechanics Building, Boston, Mass.

Inasmuch as the Mechanics Fair is an old New England institution, would it not be a good plan to give it liberal support by exhibiting at that time any products coming from this section of the State? Such an effort will surely be of advantage to this locality, as well as to the exhibitors themselves.

Let your wants be known to our readers. Costs one cent per word, 25 or more words. 13tf

The Advance of Temperance.

Address of the Retiring President of the Oxford County W. C. T. U., Delivered at the Annual Convention at Norway, June 12.

Dear Sisters:—As we come together again in our County Convention, it may serve as an encouragement to take a swift glance at the progress being made in temperance reform, in which we have been trying to help in quiet womanly work in our appointed places.

A few days ago I took up a newspaper and was startled by this assertion: "A Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald writes that drunkenness is not a vice of the United States Senate, not nearly so much as it was twenty years ago."

The idea is shocking that among the selected men from all the States and Territories of this boasted enlightened and Christian country—elected to the high and important service of framing its laws—there should be those whose habits were such as to make possible the mention of drunkenness as a vice of the United States Senate, even in a diminishing degree. It proves we are far from being a temperate nation, or governed by Christian principles, when such men can be elected by popular vote to any office of trust or honor.

Yet there is encouragement in the assertion that "it is not nearly so much of a vice of the Senate as it was twenty years ago." The onward trend is certain. We know that all great reforms are of slow growth and there never has been a time when public sentiment was more aroused in this matter nor when so efficient and energetic means have been employed to enforce temperance laws.

In our own State it is conceded that its prohibition laws are being better enforced in rural town than ever before.

It is in our larger towns and cities that the laws are most evaded. Portland has become an object lesson of what it is possible to do in driving intemperance from the cities. Through the strenuous efforts of Sheriff Pearson and his deputies a marvelous change has been effected. Saloons have been dismantled and deserted and the proprietors are finding other and more honorable business. The Liquor Dealers Association has been broken up. Hotels that had depended upon the sale of liquors as a means of profit and popularity are actually finding that as temperance hotels their business is so increasing that larger and better accommodations are becoming a necessity. Open bars are everywhere closed and pocket peddling and secret doors are the last resort of the dealers. But the entire liquor traffic is outlawed, and as Mr. Pearson says, "rumselling is a dead industry in Portland."

As a natural consequence poverty, want and crime are diminished. The overseers of the poor have comparatively few applications for aid as hundreds of men who were accustomed to squander their earnings in grogshops now use it to support their families.

It is fitting that Portland—the home of Neal Dow—from whence he labored to secure the grand prohibition law and then struggled so perseveringly for its enforcement—that this city should be exalted before the nations of the earth as an example of what that law was designed to accomplish.

It is also the home of our beloved State and National President of the Womans' Christian Temperance Union. We are sure that Sheriff Pearson has been greatly stimulated and sustained in his work by his personal friendship and the staunch loyalty of the white-ribboned band in Cumberland county.

It is always conceded that there must be public sentiment to sustain any reform movement, else it would fail in its practical working. We may take to ourselves the comfort of knowing that no one organization, except that of the church, has ever had a more potent influence in shaping public sentiment than has this organization of intelligent christian women, the wives, mothers and sisters in every civilized country, banded together to promote temperance. The motherly element of the order is predominent.

Mayor Low of New York said, "Every child within the city's limits is a child of New York and no child is so insignificant as to be beneath the city's care."

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union embraces in its motherly heart the whole world and is reaching out in myriad ways caretaking and protecting hands. It realizes that true mothering necessitates a knowledge of outside conditions of the home, so philanthropy in its broadest sense may be called the key note of the W. C. T. U.

Those who think of it simply as a temperance organization in the commonly accepted meaning of the term, fail of apprehending a tithe of its work. It concerns itself largely with children and their environment and education.

Pres. Roosevelt, while Governor of New York once said, "Our civil life in the long run will rise or sink as the average family is a success or failure. All questions of social life will solve themselves if the children are brought up to be the highest they are capable of being if our social and family relations are as they should be; if not, no material prosperity, no progress in literature, art, success in business or victory in war will make up for it to the nation."

Reformation of lives would be forestalled if every child was educated toward its best mental, physical and spiritual developement, and with this thought in view the W. C. T. U. has from time to time added to itself new departments of work for the children till it now seems as if it were embracing every phase of child life.

The literature which has been produced through these departments has become voluminous and been scattered broadcast and attracted the attention of women everywhere and led them to a new thoughtfulness with regard to parental responsibility, and a new realization that the little infant which comes into the household is born a citizen and an immortal soul.

This literature, together with the "mothers' meeting," which, for more than a quarter of a century, have held a prominent place in our work, resulted in the formation of "mothers' clubs" and societies of various names for the purpose of giving undivided study to this department of W. C. T. U. work. Women began to comprehend that the vocation of motherhood is not learned by instinct, but required information gained by study and the exhange of opinion and results of experience. And as an intelligent interest grew, it widened into vistas before unseen as a part of the mother's paradise, or of her darkest sorrow. Some five years ago, these various societies of awakened mothers were organized into a National Congress of Mothers. Mrs. Theodore W. Birney of Washington being one of its chief promoters and elected as its President.

This Congress of Mothers instituted the same methods of propagandism as the W. C. T. U., and already ten States have organized and hold annual meetings having delegates from the county organizations, which in turn are made up from the various town Congresses of Mothers. It has correspondents in every State in the Union, and in Canada, England, Germany, France, Hungary, China, Japan, India, Australia, Brazil, Chile, Peru and the Hawaiian Islands, and aims to make itself world wide.

Thus we have this new and powerful auxiliary which we hail with joy. It is indeed a national offspring of the W. C. T. U., and by giving its whole force to this department of our work it will advance with a vigor and enthusiasm impossible when it is simply one department of so great and many-sided an organization as the Woman's Christian Temperace Union.

This parent society will ever feel toward it something of the same tender, prayerful interest and pride which follows a loved child going from the home in which it was nurtured, to battle with the world and do valiant service for humanity.

The W. C. T. T. in its care of child life has done some most excellent work in securing better laws for their protection. The value of the law making scientific temperance instruction compulsory in our public schools is beyond expression. But are we, as Unions, or rather, as individuals, doing all we should in seeing that the law is enforced? Do we know that every teacher in our several towns is faithfully instructing those under their charge in the effects upon the human system of alcohol, tobacco, opium and other drugs, so they may be fortified against forming any of those injurious habits? Or do we take it for granted that the superintendent has fully instructed the teachers in their duties, and made it clear to their minds that they forfeit their wages by not complying with the law and so, as a matter of course are doing the best they can to save their money. Would it not give these teachers a different interest if they knew the parents and the members of the W. C. T. U. were noticing their efforts? And would it not encourage them to study the subject and prepare themselves to make these lessons so attractive that even the dullest minds would be impressed?

The school savings banks merit more attention than is being given to them. I heartily believe in the wisdom of forming in every child habits of frugality and forethought, and this is not done wholly by precept and example.

The self denial which a child exercises when he passes the confectioners with all its temptations, and takes his pennies to deposit in the bank, with a view to some higher good in the future, is educating him to resist that which appeals merely to his appetite and his animal nature, and is teaching him to regard money as a means to things of more substantial worth. I hope each union will take up this department's work, and push it with the energy which makes success.

The work done in our public schools reaches all classes and conditions of people, while the various organizations that are formed for children and young people, each and all excellent in themselves and worthy of being made world wide—as our L. T. L. and Y, and our Bands of Mercy, our White Cross, White Shield societies and various others, and reach comparatively few aside from children belonging to well regulated families who are taught at home the principles these societies inculcate.

I hope I shall not be missunderstood as speaking against any of these organizations, for I am not. I wish they might be formed in every town, and children trained up in this way to become aggressive workers against every form of vice to which human nature is inclined.

That the children of this generation are made active along these lines, and in church work is one of the most hopeful signs for the future. I wish the Unions in this County might do a great deal more in maintaining these organizations in their several towns. But at the same time we should think of the same work in paralel lines being done in the public schools, as the one means of reaching such families as would never permit their children to become members of these societies, and so try to make sure that those who are expected to do this work for us are doing it faithfully and efficiently.

We are all looking forward to the National Convention to be held in Portland Oct 17-22 as the one opportunity of our lives, to the most of us attending this great annual gathering, and giving ourselves the delight of seeing and hearing so many of our prominent workers whose names have long since become familiar and endeared. And we are sure there to gain a great deal of help and inspiration fitting us for better service individually. I trust we will none of us let trifles hinder us from going and afterward having to regret that we needlessly allowed ourselves to be deprived of this great privilege.

Our State convention will be held at Waterville, Sept. 16-18, and we ought not to neglect that because of the greater event to follow. Many of us know from experience how very helpful and enjoyable these State gatherings are and will feel ourselves doubly blessed if we can attend both these conventions.

Our dear Mrs. Stevens is very anxious toward its best mental, physical and spiritual developement, and with this thought in view the W. C. T. U. has from time to time added to itself new departments of work for the children till it now seems as if it were embracing every phase of child life.

The literature which has been produced through these departments has become voluminous and been scattered broadcast and attracted the attention of women everywhere and led them to a new thoughtfulness with regard to parental responsibility, and a new realization that the little infant which comes into the household is born a citizen and an immortal soul.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Hard for any woman to do housework—to attend to daily duties with a constantly aching back. Every woman should learn the cause of backache and the cure.

Doan's Kidney Pills

relieve a bad back and cure it—cure every kidney and bladder disorder, from backache to diabetes.

Mrs. C. F. Goodnow, living at 143 Washington street, New Britain, Conn., says: "I gave a testimonial in December, 1896, touching the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, and in the statement said that I had been bothered with my back and kidneys for over thirteen years, not constantly, but when I caught cold it generally settled in my back, making it lame and sore. Often the pain through the small of my back was so severe as to make me cry out. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and procured some from E. W. Thompson & Co.'s drug store, on Main street. They helped my back immediately, and in a short time relieved me of the trouble. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills at intervals during the last five years, when I felt an attack of backache coming on, and they always brought instant relief. I am never without them in the house."

Doan's Kidney Pills sold at all drug stores; 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Oxford County Republicans.

After the recess the committes reported the following for county committee: A. E. Forbes, Paris; H. H. Hastings of Bethel; H. L. Bartlett, Norway; H. C. Dunton, Rumford; J. M. Day, Woodstock; H. W. Cousins, Fryeburg; Albert Delano, Canton.

The resolutions reported were accepted without change or debate. They endorse the action of the district convention in re-nominating congressman Charles E. Littlefield, praising his stand upon the political questions of the day.

The action of the State convention as to candidates and platform was approved and decisive approval of the prohibitory law and its enforcement was stated. The national administration was lauded, and the course taken in affairs of the nation was approved vigorously and at some length.

H. H. Hastings of Bethel presented the name of John M. Philbrook, Bethel, for Senator from this district. George D. Bisbee of Rumford Fall seconded the nomination which was carried by acclamation.

James S. Wright nominated Charles F. Whitman for clerk of courts in an appreciative address. Charles H. Prince of Buckfield seconded the nomination, as did also Charles F. Ridlon of Norway.

H. E. Hammond of Paris presented George M. Atwood's name for County Treasurer, speaking of the efficiency of Mr. Atwood in that capacity. N. D. Bolster of Paris seconded the name, which was carried by acclamation.

C. P. Barnes spoke of the needs of the county in its legal phase, nominating Ellery C. Park of Bethel for County Attorney. He was seconded by H. C. Dunton of Rumford Falls. No contest to the acclamatory vote of renomniation.

A. E. Stearns of Rumford Falls said the needs of a register of deeds was one accommodating, accurate and prompt. Such a one was J. Hastings Bean, whom he honored himself by renominating. James S. Wright of South Paris seconded all that Stearns had said. H. H. Hastings of Bethel also seconded the nomination of his old neighbor. Carried without dissent.

Almon Young of Fryeburg renominated Eckley Ballard of Fryeburg. This was seconded by A. P. Gordon of Fryeburg, and carried by acclamation.

C. P. Barnes thought the town of Oxford was entitled to a county office. His candidate was E. P. Faunce of that town for County Commissioner. Wm. Gordon of Fryeburg and H. C. Dunton of Rumford Falls seconded the nomination as made. Nomination was adopted without dissent.

Almon Young of Hiram nominated Edgar L. Flint for sheriff, as a man who would enforce the law without fear or favor. He spoke of his record as a soldier and deputy sheriff, and his relation to the Parson sheriff of Cumberland. William Gordon of Fryeburg seconded Mr. Flint's name which was accepted.

Mr. Flint was introduced and greeted with applause.

It was now 12.03, business was done, and the committee adjourned without day.

RUMFORD.

Children's Day.

Children's Day was observed at the Union church, last Sunday, and a nice program was well rendered. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants. Miss J. M. Roberts superintendent of the Sunday school, and Mrs. Stuart, chairman of the committee of decorations, well earned the many congratulations offered them for the success of their untiring labor. Much assistance was given by the young people of the Point and Center.

CAUSE OF THE FEUD.

A Fuss Between Jim, Joe and Bud Started It.

"As nigh as I kin remember," said the Kentucky mountaineer when asked what was the beginning of a certain feud of long standing, "Jim Sharpless had a hawg, Joe Parker had a dawg, and Bud Taylor had a jug of whisky. How the hawg and the dawg and the jug got mixed up together I disrecollect, but 'long comes Jim and Joe and Bud and begins a fuss, and two of 'em gits killed, and since that time everybody has bin shootin at everybody else whenever he had a chance. Maybe that dawg bit the hawg, or the hawg broke the jug, or the men was onery and ached fur a fuss, but I reckon it don't make no difference. Bin 22 of 'em killed and 10 hurt, and it's still gwine on, and if yo'll jest ride round that turn by the hill it's likely yo'll find a Sharpless waitin fur a Parker or a Parker lyin low fur a Taylor, and yo'll git a bullet into yo' fur meddlin with other folks' bizness."

M. QUAD.

A Natural Conclusion.

Mollie—What makes so many cattails grow in this pond, Charlie?

Charlie—Oh, they grow up from little kitties that people have drowned here, of course.—Boston Herald.

Precarious.

"I think I shall take my daughters out of society long enough to give them a liberal education."

"But then they won't want to go back."—Brooklyn Life.

The Kangaroo.

"I didn't get to the field sports in time," said the hare. "Was there anything interesting?"

"Yes," replied the tortoise, "that big Australian champion broke the record in the 100 yard jump."—Philadelphia Press.

The wet weather makes business in the sporting line rather dull.

Public roads have been laid out by town authorities to each man's buildings and H. G. Bennett, agent, is now putting them in good shape for teams.

As a rule there is nothing funny in a stone wall, but O'Flynn's Stone Wall has a laugh for every rock and a roar for every pebble, and the theatre-goer who misses the exhibition of Tom Waters in his big musical farce next Saturday night at Norway Opera House will miss a good thing. The prices will be the same as at the former appearance of the company here.

HEBRON.

Hebron Commencement.

The annual prize debate occurred in the Baptist church, Monday evening.

The question—Resolved: That the reconstruction on the basis of Negro suffrage was an unwise policy. Aff.—Wiley O. Newman, Sullivan; Isaac R. McCombe, Sanford; Albert W. Austin, Buckfield. Neg.—Byron A. Wright, Danville, Vt.; Nelson I. Mixer, South Union; Roscoe H. Hupper, Martinsville. The judges were F. C. Bowman, M. D., Duluth, Minn.; Rev. W. E. Brooks, D. D. South Paris; Hon. Percival Bonney, Portland. The committee was Wiley O. Newman, Byron A. Wright. Ushers—Wm. F. Schoppe, Sylvan Shurtleff, Philip G. Haskell, Nicasio Fernandez.

The baccalaureate sermon on Sunday was by Rev. W. E. Brooks of South Paris. Subject found in Ps. 139: 6 and Phil. 3:13. It is a tendency to ignore every study not deemed practical. For myself I believe in a course of study that brings the student into a wide range of knowlege. A broad and general scholarship is essential to the developement of the well-balanced man. Enlargement of mind, broadening of vision, gaining an apprehension of the vastness of the field are the foundation stones upon which the well-rounded and symmetrical education must rest.

Then where there has been gained this broad and thorough scholarship, concentrate all on the chosen work—this one thing to do. The time of general preparation has passed. The time of specific effort has come.

Lewiston was first at bat. Hamlin had base on balls. Dockman knocked to Norway shortstop who fumbled and Hamlin came in. Another man had base on balls and another fumbled hit gave Lewiston three for this inning. In Norway's half one man got first, the rest went out.

In the next six innings, six Lewiston men had first base but only one got second. In three innings they went out 1, 2, 3. Norway got first in each inning but did not score until the sixth. Skillings got first, came home on Shaw's 2-bagger. Shaw came home on Gammon's hit past third base. Third man went out leaving Gammon on base. In the eighth Hamlin was hit by pitched ball and got home on Dockman's 2-bagger. Dockman was left on bases. One more for Lewiston.

In the ninth Lowell got a 2-bagger, advanced by Skillings. Lowell was forced out at home plate, Skillings came home, Shaw struck out. One more for Norway, and with proper coaching they ought to have tied the game. Norway was weak in team work.

It was a close, exciting game. There was a good audience who appreciated the good work of both teams.

Elmer Abbott of Berlin, N. H., spent a few days in Norway, last week.

C. B. Pike took the class pictures for the South Paris graduating class.

Mrs. Rose Needham and son Edward have been visiting friends in Gorham, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Flood of Farmington were in Norway, last week. Mrs. Flood will remain here, several weeks.

At the annual meeting and banquet of the Maine bankers at Hallowell, June 13, Howard D. Smith was elected one of the executive committee.

B. Marston of Mechanic Falls has been visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity. He has called on C. A. Pride, Geo. Currier, Moses Kimball and others. He returned home, Monday.

Walter L. Sanborn, who is principal of the high school in Danforth, went to Bath, Monday, where he has a position as purser on the steamboat line from Bath to Boothbay during the season.

Last Friday and Saturday, before Principal A. M. Rollins, the following took the entrance examinations to Bowdoin: Arthur H. Bodkin, jr., Thaddeus B. Roberts, Fred E. Smith, the finals. Charles Danforth, Walter Cullinan, Fred Penley and Carl Stone each took one or more of the preliminaries. The first three took their preliminaries in Greek, Latin and algebra last year and, Mr. Rollins says, passed with high rank. Bowdoin does not admit on certificate and her entrance examinations are rigid.

Norway Municipal Court.

Freeman M. Bixby, aged 17, and Jesse C. Bixby, aged 15, of Andover were before the court, Wednesday afternoon, June 11, on a charge of attempted train-wrecking. The west-bound passenger, Monday afternoon, barely escaped wrecking, a tie being found fastened on the rails about two miles from Locke's Mills. They were arraigned and pleaded guilty, and were committed to jail to await action of the Supreme Court in October.

Friday afternoon, Amos Smith of Oxford, aged about 16 years, was brought to trial for cruelty to animals. James H. Glover, livery stable keeper, of Oxford, let him have a horse to go to Norway, Memorial Day. He took a number of boys in with him and drove a long distance. The horse showed every sign of over-driving. Upon trial of the case, he was found guilty and fined $5.00 and costs. Paid.

Why the Son of a Genius Amounts to Nothing.

The human brain is made up of countless billions of cells. The work of a great genius is done by an inconceivably minute part of his brain. It may be due to a development of this minute cluster of brain cells, in connection with freedom from defective construction elsewhere.

Genius marries, and when his children are born the world wonders because they are dull and commonplace. The same is true of the ordinarily able man, the successful citizen. For that ordinarily able man, so often disappointed in his children, this is written. It would hardly be worth while to write merely for geniuses. There are very few of them in the first place, and they wouldn't read this in the second place.

Do you want your son to inherit your ability? Make your wife the companion of your brain.

By way of elucidation we will tell you the story of Filippo Lippi. He was one of the greatest artists that ever lived—the very greatest, perhaps, in his power of expressing the beauty of maternal sentiment in his pictures of divine motherhood. More wonderful even than this man's wonderful talent was the fact that his son, Filippino Lippi, inherited his father's genius.

Filippo Lippi had a commission to paint a Madonna for a certain convent in the year 1458. He wanted a model and he found a beautiful face, tender and benevolent, in a young girl, Lucrezia Buti, a pupil at the convent. He received permission for this girl to sit as his model. If you go to Paris you may see his beautiful picture of her in the Louvre. While painting the portrait, he fell madly in love with the girl and persuaded her to reciprocate his affection. Their son was the famous Filippino Lippi, one of the few men in all the history of the world who inherited intact the genius of a great father.

The meaning of this story is plain. Your wife gives you your children. She cannot give you that which you will not give her. If you do not share your brain with her, if you do not share your interests, if you do not associate her and your love for her with your most earnest work, she cannot give you a son possessing qualities which you have withheld from her. A man of genius has a commonplace son, because his marriage is a commonplace marriage, and this is the fault of the man of genius. Almost invariably, as you may learn in Galton's "Hereditary Genius," or in any racing guide book, you will find that talent comes through the mother. The mother's interests, unlike those of the father, are not scattered. Her best and strongest emotions are reserved for the home life. Her noblest thoughts are associated with her married relationship, and her child inherits the best there is in her.

The man of genius lives in a selfish, isolated atmosphere of his own. His wife has the pleasure of sharing his annoyances, his dyspepsia, his private grievances, his rheumatism and his general bitterness. He laments loudly that his son develops into a commonplace nothingness. And often, poor creature, he imagines that the fault is his wife's. If you are a great genius, or even a man of ordinary ability, you want your son to inherit your strength. Make your wife a real partner now; let her be ever associated in your mind with the best work of your brain, as was Filippo Lippi's beauiful model in all his work and thoughts, and you will not have to sigh because you are the father of a fool.

EAST HIRAM.

Edwin Herriman has been visited by his brother, Stephen Herriman.

A large number from this village attended the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Eli C. Wadsworth at their home. The boys and young men had previously given them an old-fashioned serenade with tin horns, cow-bells, etc.

The Republicans of Hiram have chosen delegates to the State, district and county conventions. Hon. Almon Young was chosen to attend the three conventions, with Hon. Charles Rankin to attend county convention and Henry W. Merrill to attend the State convention.

Rev. H. H. Hoyt and family have arrived from Portland, Oregon. He visited at his parental home in Peabody, Kansas, where he was detained for several days by the illness of his little daughter Vera. The ladies of the Universalist Circle gave them a reception in K. P. hall, last Thursday evening. Mr. Hoyt preached Sunday, at the Universalist church.

At the Pythian Sisterhood meeting, an unusually large number of the members were present to greet Mrs. E. E. Hanson, who had recently returned from Portland, Oregon, where she with her husband has spent the last year and a half with their daughter, Mrs. H. H. Hoyt, and family. At the close of the regular meeting, a social hour was much enjoyed, while ice cream and cake were served.

At the annual meeting of Hiram W. C. T. U. at the M. E. church, the following were chosen officers for the ensuing year:

Pres.—Mrs. F. M. Y. Clifford.
Vice Pres.—Mrs. Fannie M. Burnell, Mrs. Cassie Dow.
Cor. and Rec. Sec.—Evie M. Hanson.
Treas.—Mrs. Nellie M. Burnell.

Mrs. Clara Kimball, Mrs. A. F. Laberta and Mrs. Ellen Pierce were chosen delegates to attend the convention at Norway.

REDDING.

U. M. Beckler recently went to Lewiston on business.

Workmen are getting the lumber on the ground for a new steam mill.

Chester and Edith Andrews visited friends in West Paris and vicinity Saturday and Sunday, June 7 and 8.

Mrs. Jane Canwell, a former resident of this place, died June 2, at her daughter's in Sumner.

WEST FRYEBURG.

Edith Walker is at home from her school at Kent's Hill for a vacation.

The meeting of the Stirling Literary club which met with Mrs. Elmer Walker June 3d, was well attended and the program well rendered. Mrs. J. A. Jones, Mrs. W. Chandler, Mrs. Fred Meserve and Mrs. S. O. Wiley read selections from different authors. Susie Jewett gave a select reading and Mrs. H. D. E. Hutchins sang songs. Mrs. Walker's club tea was deservedly appreciated.

Newspapers may be divided into two classes, those which content themselves with printing the news and commenting upon it and those which create or invent news and then crow over their "enterprise." Now, as always, however, the odds are largely in favor of the former class.

EAST HEBRON.

Alonzo Wood.

Alonzo Wood passed away, Juue 2nd, after a long sickness. He was nearly eighty years of age and had been a respected citizen in this place many years. He is survived by his wife, his only son Roscoe, a musician in Auburn, and his daughter, Mrs. Annie Wood, who, with her son Harry, has tenderly cared for her parents. The funeral was on the 4th, conducted by Rev. Mr. Turner. He was a firm Universalist. Sickness impaired his mind for a season before his death.

J. E. Bonney of Auburn is gradually failing.

Rev. L. D. Tibbetts' wife is quite sick with measles.

W. H. Berry has a cow with twin calves of the masculine gender.

Mary Moulton passed last week in Auburn and Lewiston with relatives.

Thomas Bridgham, esq., and Carleton Gardner of Buckfield were in this place, Saturday, June the 7th.

Mertie Belle Record and Fred Morrill of Boston passed two days at H. A. Record's, recently.

Last week gave the seeds that were planted a good start, before the cold wind rose so fiercely.

Mrs. Robert Carr Marshall of Roxbury, Mass, died very suddenly, May 25. Her husband's birthplace and childhood days were in this place. He was the son of I. W. Marshall.

CASCO.

A Large Eagle.

Cyrus A. Leach was fortunate enough to secure a large white headed eagle, measuring seven feet and two inches from tip to tip of wings. The eagle is a great fighter and hearty. He lives on fish, squirrels and chickens. Mr. Leach thinks he would not attempt to capture another one alive.

Frank Grover and family spent last week with his father in East Stoneham.

Mrs. Abbie Edwards, who has been sick for the last few weeks, is some better.

Geo. Lombard, who has been east to work, has returned home to carry on his farm this summer.

Lyman Holden and wife, Irving Kemp and Joseph Bothy attended the Free Baptist conference at White Rock and report a very interesting meeting.

Deer Plentiful.

Three deer, an old one and two young ones crossed the road just below Ed Barton's house, May 31, and crossed his field into the woods. They are getting quite plenty in this vicinity and very tame.

The farmers are about done planting.

The recent rains have helped the hay crop in this part of the county.

Charlie Thompson, who is at work at Ricker's, spent Sunday the 8th, at home.

W. C. Pinkham and wife called on friends in this place on Sunday, the 8th.

Mrs. Sally Burgess has gone to Otisfield to visit her niece, Mrs. H. R. Brazier.

Mrs. F. H. Smith of Raymond visited her cousin, Mrs. E. A. Barton, the 4th.

Mrs. Nellie Morse of Oaks has been visiting her niece, Mrs. E. A. Barton, recently.

The apple crop bids fair to be a good one in this place and some are beginning to pick up the flour barrels.

Gertrude Cook, who has been at home sick recently, has so far recovered as to return to her school that she was teaching in Raymond.

SOUTH ALBANY.

A Good Catch of Pickerel.

Hiram Holt of Lynchville and Fred Littlefield of this place went fishing in French's pond one day last week and report a catch of 33 pickerel.

Ora Saunders has been at work for E. E. French lately.

Walter Lord has planted nearly all the corn for the farmers in this vicinity.

Henry Sawin and wife were at Hanover, visiting relatives and friends for a few days, recently.

George Abbott and wife spent Sunday, the 8th, at Sumner Grover's at North Waterford.

J. W. Dresser, wife, and two children, Mary and Lizzie, were at his father's P. P. Dresser's, Sunday, June the 8th.

Mrs. Charlotte Butters and Mrs. Ida Holt of Lynchville called on their niece, Mrs. Walter Lord, Friday, June 6.

There seems to be a scarcity of girls to do house work just at present. A great demand and none available.

W. A. Manning with his daughter, Mary Manning, of North Waterford called on Merritt Sawin, Sunday, the 8th.

Mrs. Lydia Sawin has finished work in South Waterford and is stopping with her son, L. A. Sawin, in Waterford for the present.

Deer seem to be plenty round here at present. Two were seen in P. B. Henley's field a few rods from the house, by a number of people and were rather tame. Geo. Abbott also saw one in his field.

WILSON'S MILLS.

Mrs. J. W. Carter is home from the Central Maine Hospital.

Still raining. Farmers complain they haven't a chance to get their crops planted.

F. A. York has been sawing wood for R. A. Storey with his portable steam engine.

The Colt party came down from Camp Caribou, Saturday, June 7. George and Arthur Flint were guides.

LYNCHVILLE.

Loring McKeen has been in town.

Ralph Adams' wife has gone to Boston.

Mrs. Perley Adams and Mrs. Georee Brown visited at West Stoneham.

Mrs. C. P. McKeen, who has been very sick for two weeks, is improving.

Charles McKeen and Eugene McKeen are at work for Mr. Moore at Five Kezars.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Hastings from Swan's Corner has visited her father, Silas McKeen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chandler called on their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ananias McAllister.

Mrs. George Keniston and four children from East Waterford visited at her father's, Burnham McKeen's.

MRS. J. E. O'DONNELL

Was Sick Eight Years with Female Trouble and Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never in my life given a testimonial before, but you have done so much for me that I feel called upon to give you this unsolicited acknowledgement of the wonderful curative value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For eight years I had female trouble, falling of the womb and other complications. During that time I was more or less of an invalid and not much good for anything, until one day I found a book in my hall telling of the cures you could perform. I became interested: I bought a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was helped; I continued its use and in seven months was cured, and since that time I have had perfect health. Thanks, dear Mrs. Pinkham again, for the health I now enjoy."—MRS. JENNIE O'DONNELL, 278 East 31st St., Chicago, Ill. — $5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

MRS. JENNIE E. O'DONNELL, President of Oakland Woman's Riding Club.

Women suffering from any form of female ills can be cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. That's sure.

Mrs. Pinkham advises sick women free. Address, Lynn, Mass.

WENTWORTH LOCATION, N. H.

Fish Stories.

We read a little fish story of the man who left home in the night after fish and had to dive for them. But how is this for a fish story? The lady of the Diamond Farm did up her work in the morning and started fishing, returning in time to get dinner, having caught sixty fine trout.

Deer are plenty. Four were seen in N. W. Bennett's field, Sunday, June 8.

George Bennett is working for M. C. Linnell.

N. W. Bennett and brother, Elias Bennett, have gone up to the Diamond Farm, sporting.

Ephraim Bean is very ill from heart trouble.

David York is painting R. A. Shorey's buildings.

BRYANT'S POND.

For pimples, blotches, bad complexion, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine to take—it has established this fact.

"Labor Conquers All Things."

South Paris High School Graduation.

The Baptist church was filled to overflowing, Thursday evening, by citizens of South Paris, scholars and friends and relatives of the members of the graduating class. The church was tastily decorated for the occasion. Potted flowering and foliage plants filled the arched recess immediately back of the pulpit. The class motto "Labor Onnia Vincit" in red upon a light blue field was stretched across the arched opening and just above was an rectangular pendant in the same colors bearing the magic figures "'02." Above the point, fastened directly to the wall, were red letters, P. H. S. On the center of the walls at right and left sides were pendants '02 similar to the one in front. Streamers of alternating red and light blue bunting stretched from center to corners of the audience room, and were stretched about the room; where fastened, crepe paper bows marked the spot.

Slightly before eight o'clock, Stearns' orchestra at the right of the pulpit, began playing a march. Two by two the seven young ladies and thirteen young men, entered and with measured step marched to seats facing the pulpit. At a sign from the marshal all became seated while the orchestra stopped short.

An appropriate prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Brooks, followed by a short orchestral selection.

Harry Maitland Shaw began the exercises with the Latin salutatory. He saluted the audience, citizens, friends, teachers and classmates in the language perhaps not thoroughly understood by the majority of his audience.

Elizabeth May Newell's theme was "Hero Worship." Horoes in peace as well as war. Heroes in science and in government. Men like Field, Garrison, McKinley, Roosevelt and Riis. Grant's greatest heroism was in battle with disease and debt. Looking at heroic men in emulation makes heroic men.

Charles Alfred Marston told of "The Early History of Maine." The discoveries by the Norseman and English were touched upon and the dates and historic spots. Early settlements, struggles with the Indians and the Revolution. He traced the history to include the formation of Maine as a separate state.

Class oration, "Duty," by Milton Vosmus McAlister. We must make the best of our lives, physically, intellectually, morally. The latter is too often neglected. Duty to our land in meeting temptations of prosperity, leading to self-indulgence and vice in the individual, and anarchy in the body politics. Graduates of to-day are citizens of to-morrow, their deeds must be worthy deeds.

At this point, Principal Hal R. Eaton suggested the standing of the audience during the orchestra selection, which was done.

Addie Lodicea Giles gave proof of the power in "The Use of the Will." Difficulties disappear like snow before the rain, when strong determined will is brought to bear upon them. Her illustration was the story of Helen Keller's wonderful life.

Roy Hiram Porter's theme was "Self-Made Men." He distinguished between self-made man and artificial man. Man the creature of effort, and man the creature of environment. Work, determination, energy, self-reliance and bravery are needed, as they are shown in the lives of Lincoln and Garfield.

Harold Ernest Hebbard spoke on "Sunrise to Sunset." Life compared to a day. God's greatest gift to man is life. The ideals of our nation and power. A lady sleeping in a boat awakes to find her string of pearls unfastened, and one by one they slipped into the sea. Life slips away while we sleep.

Josie Belle Walker recited the provisions of the class will, the various bequests, ten in number, were of property tangible and intangible. Love and loyalty were expressly reserved. We have not learned of its admission to probate. "Success" was Stanley Mathews Wheeler's theme. Success is in accomplishing the supposedly impossible. Compared Wm. McKinley and Jay Gould. Success is not in never making mistakes. Successful man learns by his mistakes. Success lies with self.

Music by orchestra, the audience standing.

Frank Alton Bonney was historian. The important points were chronicled in pleasing manner. The class has changed considerable. The corps of teachers somewhat. He told of the entertainments and sociables of the class, also of the terrible things that would have happened if this class had not entered the high school.

Roy Hesden Curtis had a clear idea of "Our Duty as American Citizens." Ships need men to handle them. Captain cannot do it all. Generals need soldiers. Unless we do our duty our nation will fall. He spoke of the perils of our nation.

Lisbeth Belva Murphy was class poet. Her theme was the familiar story of Troy, as told in Virgil's Anead. It was a well constructed piece of work.

Harold Tilton Briggs was interested in "The Preservation of our Forests." Forestry is the problem of to-day. The uses of trees are many, and their timber is not their greatest one. Maine is in danger of losing her forests, consequently her attractiveness as a summer resort and hunting and fishing grounds.

Music by orchestra, audience standing.

Class essay by Margaret Stearns was on the motto in English, "Labor Conquers All Things." The life of late President McKinley was the illustration, in its phases of teacher, soldier, Congressman and President.

Inez Mattie Swift prophesied of "America in 1950," that the advance would be as great as in the last half century. The wireless telegraph, the automobile, the air ships, new uses for electricity, are problems the near future will see solved.

"The Greatest Crime of the Eighteenth Century," was the partition of Poland. George Rudolph Salisbury gave a clear account of it in its moral and political bearings. Russia has been the foe of liberty, and it is dangerous to trust her now.

Ethel May Howe saw her classmates futures. She found a stone in a little brook, rubbing which, like Aladdin's lamp, brought a fairy, who revealed the lives of those whose school lives for these years have been lived together.

Roy Emerson Cole presented gifts to members of the class. The appropriateness of these gifts was set forth in words to each. He then presented to the class the gift of silence.

"The Value of the Idea." Hobart Augustus Kenney spoke of the idea of Gutenburg, printing; Franklin, electricity; Watts, the steam-engine; and Howe, the sewing machine. Gain ideas and persistently follow them. Have great ideas, then death or victory.

Harold Theodore Thayer was valedictorian. In fitting language, thanking for help and blessings, he bade farewell to citizens of Paris, to the superintendent and school board, to teachers, schoolmates and classmates. Joy and sadness mingled even in this occasion.

Superintendent Wheeler spoke briefly, congratulating and commending the graduates, for successfully doing the work of the school. The graduates filed by, receiving their diplomas, and took position upon the platform. The following class ode by Miss Murphy was sung to the tune of "Where the Sweet Magnolias Bloom:"

We are thinking of our happy days together,
Of the days gone ne'er to come to us again,
Of the kindness of our teachers and our schoolmates,
And the thought of parting brings to us a pain.

With the paths of duty and pleasure before us,
Too often have we chosen pleasure's way.
When you come to leave your school, O try my schoolmates,
And take heed you do not have the same to say.

Chorus.

Now our high school days are over
And with sadness in each heart,
We all choose a different pathway,
On life's journey we shall start.
When again we meet each other,
If in foreign lands we roam,
We'll give three cheers for our school-days
In our old South Paris home.

To these friends of ours assembled here to-night,
We extend our thanks for all their kindly ways.
Through our school days you have helped and cheered us often,
And made sunshine for us in the darkest days
To our teachers and schoolmates and each other
To whom we're bound by friendship's golden tie,
'Tis the end of school days here, and so, my classmates,
We must bid them one and all a fond goodbye.

Chorus.

Benediction by Rev. A. W. Pottle.

The exercises were concluded about 11.15.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Mrs. Perham's Funeral.

Mrs. Almena Jane (Hathaway) Perham, wife of former Gov. Sidney Perham, died, June 5th, at her winter home in Washington, D. C. She had been ill for about nine weeks.

Gov. and Mrs. Perham lived together but a few months less than 60 years, and the complete peace and affection of their home life excited the most favorable comment wherever they were well known. For 16 years they lived in Washington during the winter and at their old home in Paris during the summer. On New Year's day, 1893, they celebrated their golden wedding.

The funeral services were held here at 2 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, June 11th. Rev. Mr. Van Shaick, the pastor of the family from Washington, D. C., was the officiating clergyman. The burial was at Bryant's Pond. William L. Perham and family accompanied the remains from New York. Mrs. Perham, who was the daughter of Lazarus Hathaway, was a little less than 81 years of age. Four of their children are living, Aurestus Sidney of Washington, Lucy Frances and Georgianna Sophronia, and W. L. Perham of New York.

Mason Carns of Paris, France, is the guests of his uncle, Lewis M. Brown, at the Old Brick.

EAST WATERFORD.

Mark Tapley Lost His Wallet.

Mark Tapley lost his wallet, last week. It contained but a small amount as usual, forcibly reminding him of the old Scotch soldier who was about to suffer decapitation. He marched to the place of execution with a bold military step, in perfect time to the dead march played by the regimental band, mounted the scaffold, and turning to the executioner remarked, "Mister, it is not much of a head you are about to chop off, but a sad loss to me, as it is the best and all I have."

P. N. Haskell is quite feeble.

Sidney Hall is building a barn on his Norwood farm.

Joseph Patterson is able to leave his bed and walk out in fair weather.

Thanks are due to road commissioner Frost for the fine condition of the roads.

L. E. McIntire has purchased of Ray Johnson the Asa Hersey farm and is repairing the buildings.

To all appearances the apples trees were not severely injured by the recent cold wave, but plums and pears are badly blighted. Small fruits promise well except gooseberries which are a total failure.

Mrs. Wm. A. Emery, jr., and Lula Hamilton have returned from Haverhill, Mass., where Lula has been dangerously ill for a long time. Mrs. Emery returned to Rumford Falls, Monday, where her husband is overseeing the building of the Baptist church. Lula is with her grandmother, Mrs. Loyd Andrews, at the home of Charles Noble, South Paris. She has so far recovered as to go out and walk about when pleasant.

BOLSTER'S MILLS.

Nearing 100 Years.

Mrs. Phebe Haskell passed the 94th anniversary of her birth at her home, Tuesday, June 10. Several friends called to pay their respects, and she received many mementoes of the day. She retains her faculties as well as ever, and her cheerfulness makes it sunshine wherever she is.

Cora Longly of Rowly, Mass., is at W. S. Perley's.

FRYEBURG.

Fryeburg Academy.

The baccalaureate exercises before the graduating class of Fryeburg Academy were held at the Congregational church on Sunday evening, June 15. The floral decorations were of various combinations of white wild flowers and green foliage. The music was well rendered by a mixed quartet, composed of Messrs. H. Pushard and C. Willard, Mrs. C. Pike and Mrs T. Eastman, with Mrs. A. M. Abbott as organist. There was a large attendance. The baccalaureate address, which was a very earnest one, was delivered by Rev. F. C. Libby of Andover, Mass. It was founded upon Matt. 6th chapter, a part of the 33d verse, viz., "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God." He said in part, "The greatest work that the school and the college do in bringing the Kingdom of God to men is not fully appreciated by students. They seek to instil the principles of righteousness and truth in the heart, and to educate and discipline the mind through books and through personal contact with others. Life in the world is very like an athletic contest. And just as character, independence, self-control, courage and good 'team work' are needed in the one case so are they needed in the other, if we would win true success."

The graduation of the class of 1902, Fryeburg Academy, was held in the Congregational church, Tuesday afternoon. The decorations consisted of ferns, which bordered the entire platform. On the wall in the rear of the stage the class motto, "Workers of Our Own Fortunes," in white and lavender.

The weather was fine and a large number attended. The program was as follows:

Music
Prayer	Rev. B. N. Stone
Salutatory Address	Robie Mason Evans
Washington and Lincoln as Statesmen	Etta Elizabeth Burbank
Class Oration—The American Republic	Lucius Black Swett

Progress of Electrical Invention During the Last Century	Max Gibson Newman
Presentation of Gifts	John Franklin Buzzell
Valedictory	Eloise Gerry
Music	Howard Quartet
Conferring of Diplomas	Dr. S. C. Gordon

Music was furnished by the Harvard Quartet, who gave a very fine concert in the evening. At the concert the quartet was assisted by Mabel Sawyer, reader.

Robie M. Evans enters Dartmouth, Max G. Newman goes to the University of Maine, and Eloise Gerry to Wellesley, the coming year.

Announcement was made concerning the award of the gold medal offered to the best debater by Wallace E. Mason, principal of Leominster, Mass., high school (a graduate of the academy), and the medal was presented Eloise Gerry by Dr. S. C. Gordon, president of the board of trustees.

Further awards were: Best classical students—1st, Evelyn Thompson and Osgood Pike; 2d, Bessie Mayo and Robie Evans. Greatest improvement along general lines, Evelyn Thompson, Webster Davis.

The awards in the first contest consisted of books given by Walter A. Robinson, a former principal of the school.

In the second contest money was given the successful students.

Principal Charles E. Willard will return to the school in September.

The reception at The Oxford was the largest ever held. The whole day's proceedings passed off very smoothly and pleasantly, and many happy congratulations were exchanged.

Mrs. E. C. Harriman of Boston is visiting her brother, H. H. Burbank.

Very heavy showers here, Monday afternoon. Lightning struck the Adams barn at Fryeburg Center, but no serious damage was done.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Fourth of July Matters.

A meeting of those interested in securing a celebration was held at Pythian House Hall, Friday night. F. A. Taylor was chairman and E. G. Cole clerk. Four committees were appointed to consider the advisability of a celebration and to arrange for it, if it is deemed best.

These committees met Tuesday evening and as it seems to be the sentiment of those interested, that as the time is so short to arrange for a first-class celebration, and as we want a first-class celebration, as we have always had, or not at all, it was voted to defer the celebration until another year.

Not that the Fourth will go by entirely without any notice, however. Several of ball teams will take part in a tournament here, and there will be other sports of the day.

An Unknown Visitor.

Deputy Sheriff A. P. Bassett visited his cottage, Camp Sabattus, Saturday and Sunday, and found it occupied by a woman who seemed to be destitute and taken up her abode there. As the camp is well supplied with furniture she was living very comfortably. She says her name was Gertrude Wood and that she came last from Bethel, and that she has been working at the hotel for Mr. [illegible].

No one at Lovell was found who knew her or could give any clew to her identity, as might be. She was 45 to 50 years old, dressed in very neat, ladylike appearing clothing, and had kept the camp in neat condition and had not been wasteful or destructive.

Mr. Bassett notified the selectmen of Lovell, who took the woman in charge, and are trying to fine the relatives or friends of the unfortunate one.

Charlie Ripley from South Paris is visiting Jesse P. Edwards and family.

G. F. Cook of Westbrook visited his brother, A. L. Cook, last week.

A. C. McCrellis' horse is lame. He is driving another, which is very much.

H. W. Kimball begins upon a house next week. He and his wife will live in it at Bridgton.

Judge H. C. Davis is holding court this week, at his office and will have a special court room.

Thomas Smiley and S. B. & Z. S. Prince will close their dry goods stores all day, July 4th.

Next Sunday's service at the Veranda meeting, G. A. R. hall, will be a union meeting. Mrs. Tripp, formerly Miss Clapp, is to preach, July 6.

Mrs. Leon Curtis and daughter Mildred, Mrs. James N. Farrington and Mrs. Dinsmore are staying with Mrs. Lizzie Sampson at Camp Sampson on Pleasant pond.

Dr. Harry P. Jones and wife will visit Andover, this week. Dr. Jones will probably leave, Thursday. Mrs. Jones wants to be there so as to finish her visit.

Supper of the Veranda Club, Thursday evening, June 26. Rev. Mr. Morse, the famous reader, will furnish entertainment and there will be recitations and music. The proceeds go to the charitable work of the club.

Recently the Veranda Club met at Alton Curtis', West Paris, and a dinner was served. All the ladies sat down to dinner, including several from Kennebunk and Oxford. Those attending report a fine time, a fine supper and a delightful time generally.

There was a meeting at Grange hall, Thursday afternoon, of delegates from the five women's clubs of Norway, relating toward federation. A meeting is expected in October to elect officers and transact such other business as may be advisable to make at that time.

C. F. Ricker and wife of Auburn were in town Monday, returning from a visit to Oxford. Mr. Ricker was born in the latter town and moved away about 40 years ago. He found a number of old friends whom he used to know. Mrs. Ricker was 13 years old when her husband left Oxford and if we understood correctly he had not been there since this visit.
